Outrigger Fiji opens adults only pool

Outrigger on the Lagoon · Fiji continuously seeks to enhance its products and services to exceed the expectations of its guests. Since opening in October 2000, the resort has always looked at opportunities to ensure a delightful stay for its guests and has introduced new innovations that are proving successful for the popular resort in the heart of the Coral Coast. The Bebe Spa Sanctuary, the Talai Butler Service and the Meimei (nanny) services have been a few of the recent inclusions that have set Outrigger on the Lagoon · Fiji apart from the rest.

To remain ahead of the game, the resort has recently introduced an adult's only pool and bistro – Vahavu, which means 'to relax' or 'chill out' in the local Nadroga Fijian dialect and is expected to entice a different segment of tourists who seek a quieter, relaxed environment to enjoy their holiday.

The idea is a direct result of feedback from guests and couples in particular, who are seeking a more 'chilled out, adults only' pool alternative at the resort.

"Our adults only pool and bistro is a game changer for the resort and will offer our guests greater choice of services", stated Outrigger on the Lagoon · Fiji General Manager Peter Hopgood.

"We are now able to cater for a wider cross section of guests from families to couples who want a little more quiet time in an adult's only environment," Mr. Hopgood stated.

"Whilst we are a family resort we also cater for couples and we are just so excited to offer this private alternative to our guests," Mr. Hopgood added.

The project which began in September, 2012 cost the resort $2.2 million and features a 20 meter lap pool, a 35 meter lagoon pool and a swim-up bar.

The venue also features a banquets centre and can cater for up to 100 guests. The bistro will offer a more up market bistro menu with shared tapa platters for the more astute clientele. The bistro is set in an outdoor type dining facility featuring a full pool side service and lounge area.

Outrigger on the Lagoon · Fiji was recently recognized as the Best Deluxe Accommodation in Fiji at the 2012 AON Excellence in Tourism awards, as well as the Best Fine Dining Restaurant.

The resort prides itself on delivering all the luxury of a five star property with the unforgettable warmth only found in a traditional Fijian village.
